

Rt. Hon Helen Clark
Prime Minister, New Zealand

Success and Innovation Awards, American Chamber of Commerce, Carlton Hotel Auckland

Every year there are new and exciting stories of Kiwi companies breaking into the United States market. Take Cabco, for example, which has signed a deal to supply Wal-Mart with its electronic shopping carts. I'm told Cabco is the first New Zealand supplier to make it on to Wal-Mart's books. Let's hope they pave the way for others, as Wal-Mart is the world's largest retail company with 3600 stores in the United States alone.

Cabco's Doug Bartlett accepts an Export award from Prime Minister
Helen Clark.

